Olav V New King Of Norway

He Ascends Throne Automatically Upon Death of Haakon VII

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 21 (AP)—A cheerful, sport-loving soldier-prince ascended the throne of Norway today. The new King Olav V had trained for the job through all his 54 years.

He took over automatically as constitutional monarch on the death this morning of his father, Haakon VII. By law, there will be no coronation.

Haakon succumbed to a circulatory ailment. He had been in failing health since the summer of 1955, when he broke a thigh bone in a fall. His death at 85 ended a reign of 52 years. He was the world's oldest ruling monarch and had been Norway's only king since the nation dissolved its union with Sweden in 1905. For the last two years, Haakon's royal duties had been discharged by Crown Prince Olav V, serving as regent.

Haakon's death plunged this nation of 3 1/2 million into mourning. The governing Socialists and the other five political parties canceled all campaigning for the parliamentary elections Oct. 7 until after Haakon's funeral Oct. 1.

The official mourning period will run four months. Ships of Norway's giant merchant marine will fly flags at half mast until after Haakon's funeral a week from Tuesday. From all over the world, the royal family received messages of condolence. In Great Britain, Queen Elizabeth proclaimed two weeks of mourning in the British court.

In assuming the throne, Olav submitted a written oath of office to a special Cabinet meeting stating: "I promise and swear I will rule the monarchy of Norway in agreement with its constitution."

He will repeat the oath orally in January when a new Parliament is convened. He is expected to conduct his constitutional office in much the same quiet way as his father, providing unobtrusive leadership at Cabinet sessions, presiding with dignity at royal ceremonies and maintaining an easy democratic manner with his people.

Like his father, Olav's greatest test came in World War II. When Hitler's forces overran Norway, Haakon defied German demands for surrender and fled to England to head the Norwegian government-in-exile for five years. Olav, a general at the time, helped organize a fighting force of free Norwegians based in Great Britain and in 1944 became commander in chief of Norway's armed forces. He returned to Norway at the head of the army five days after Hitler fell, the first of the royal family to come back.

Col. Harold E. Humfeld

Col. Humfeld To Command Bomb Wing

Col. Harold E. Humfeld, a veteran of 19 years AF service and a member of SAC since 1948, will assume command of the 340th Bomb Wing within the next few days. Col. Robert T. Calhoun, present commander, will be deputy to Col. Humfeld.

The new commander is presently enroute from Westover AFB, Mass., by motor car, and is expected to arrive at Whiteman sometime this weekend.

He has just returned from France, where he had served since March of this year as SAC operations representative in the Paris area.

His wife, the former Jennie Reece of Republic, Mo., and their two children, Harold, 6, and Mary Kathleen, 2, are in Whiteman quarters, having come here from Paris late last month.

Biographical data on the colonel was incomplete at press time, but it was learned that he was born in Clay Center, Kan., and presently calls Dallas, Texas, home. He has a bachelor degree from UCLA. From May 1954 until March 1957, he was director of operations for the Eighth Air Force. He entered the AF in 1938 and is a command pilot.

During World War II he served in the South Pacific as well as the Z.I., and was a senior instructor for the Air National guard at Birmingham, Ala., in 1946-47 before appointment to duties at bases in Texas and New Mexico.

Col. Humfeld was transferred to Westover in July 1955 when the Eighth Air Force moved there from Carswell AFB, Texas.

Saver of Drowning Boy Leaves Unidentified

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Sept. 21 (AP)—A 5-year-old boy was saved from drowning in Turkey Creek today by a man who left the scene without giving his name.

Stephan Branham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray G. Branham, Overland Park, Kan., was unconscious when carried from the creek.

The man administered artificial respiration until an ambulance arrived. Hospital attendants said the boy was in fair condition tonight.

Stephan fell into the rain-swollen stream while playing with a brother, David, 7.

School Head Will Keep Adults Out

Little Rock Awaits Developments Mon. As Troops Pull Out

BULLETIN

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 21 (AP)—Three of the nine Negro students once barred from Central High School said tonight that they definitely plan to attend classes there Monday.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 21 (AP)—With National Guard troops no longer surrounding Central High School and all legal barriers cleared away, the citizens of Little Rock held the key today to whether the school would be integrated peacefully.

The nine Negro pupils who were turned away by troops when they tried to enter the 2,000-pupil white school Sept. 4 have not decided yet to try again Monday. Yesterday most said in an interview that they would show up after the troops left.

But today one of the pupils, asked if the Negroes planned to enter Central High Monday, said, "I don't know and I don't think the others have decided."

Mrs. L. C. Bates, head of the Arkansas branch of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said she had no information.

Little Rock police assume that the students will be at the school Monday morning. They have not disclosed their plans.

The Little Rock School Board met to discuss the racial situation, and Supt. Virgil Blossom said afterward that all adults would be asked to keep out of the building Monday morning.

Progress reports will be handed to newsmen later that morning if the Negroes enter, Blossom said.

Gov. Orval Faubus, who pulled out National Guard troops surrounding the school after an injunction against him was issued in U.S. District Court yesterday, was scheduled to leave this afternoon for the Southern Governors' Conference at Sea Island, Ga.

Faubus, whose mobilization of the National Guard touched off the crisis nearly three weeks ago, said today his attorneys walked out of the federal court hearing yesterday to "prevent the governor from waiving his constitutional and sovereign powers."

The governor said he would have "enjoyed" attending the court session, but that he had been advised against it.

Kay Matthews, one of Faubus' attorneys, said the injunction ruling would be appealed on grounds the federal court lacked jurisdiction.

Attorneys in Little Rock expressed the belief that Faubus' four attorneys may be liable, technically, for a citation of contempt of court by U.S. Dist. Judge Ronald Davies for having left the hearing.

The man administered artificial respiration until an ambulance arrived. Hospital attendants said the boy was in fair condition tonight.

Stephan fell into the rain-swollen stream while playing with a brother, David, 7.

'Hesitation, Confusion'

Gov. Williams Assails Ike's Handling of Arkansas Crisis

CHICAGO, Sept. 21 (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan tonight criticized the Eisenhower administration's handling of the Little Rock School integration problem and said, "Seldom has the nation seen a comparable spectacle of hesitation and confusion."

Williams, in his original text prepared before Gov. Faubus of Arkansas withdrew troops from around the Little Rock Central High School, charged President Eisenhower "failed to defend the Constitution."

The Michigan governor said in his revised text, "The bayonets that have barred children from schools have been removed—as everybody knew they eventually would be—but the damage to the prestige and dignity of the United States has been done."

"The virtual silence of the White House while the Constitution and courts were being defied cannot fail to offer encouragement to all those who hope to avoid or defy the law of the land. It is hard to say whose face the President was trying to save—but it is clear that the face of the nation has been smeared before the world."

Williams, fifth term governor of Michigan, made his remarks in a speech prepared for the Young Democrats of Cook County.

Williams, who has been mentioned as a possible Democratic presidential nominee in 1960, assailed "modern Republicanism" as "bankrupt" and a "contradiction in terms" that repeatedly has produced examples of "confusion and indecision"—notably in maneuvering this year over the federal budget.

He called the President's "wasteful" use of his enormous popularity and prestige "one of the great tragedies of our era."

Biblical Pool Of Gibeon Is Uncovered

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21 (AP)—Archeologists have uncovered the biblical pool of Gibeon and the spring of ancient Israel is flowing again after 25 centuries, the University of Pennsylvania museum reported today.

The pool was discovered 82 feet down in hard limestone. A team headed by Dr. James B. Pritchard, a research associate at the museum and professor at the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, Berkeley, Calif., made the find.

Restoration of the pool revealed one of the ancient world's remarkable engineering achievements, the museum said. The discovery confirms the biblical tradition that the men of Gibeon—now called El-Job—were "drawers of water."

The archeologists also uncovered a mass of evidence indicating that wine-making was a flourishing industry before Gibeon and its environs were laid waste by King Nebuchadnezzar in 587 B.C.

The Bible refers to Gibeon as the place where the sun stood still and stones rained down from the sky as Joshua routed the invading Amorites.

The ancient engineers, in attempting to reach the water table, dug a cylindrical pit 37 feet in diameter to a depth of 33 feet. Then they carved a spiral stairway against the face of the pit. At the 33-foot level a tunnel was dug until water was found at 82 feet.

Dr. Pritchard said the work was probably done with slave labor and may have taken years. The work of clearing the pit and stairway was done by 80 men working two shifts a day for six weeks, he said.

The diggers found a water jar lying unbroken in the spring where it had been left by the last user more than 25 centuries ago.

To Attend Church in Group

BPWC Will Sponsor Special Events During This Week

A number of special events will be sponsored by the Sedalia Business and Professional Women's Club during National Business Women's Week, Sept. 22-28.

The members will attend the Federated Congregational Church, of which the Rev. Leonard Reifel is pastor, at 10:30 o'clock this morning, meeting outside of the church at 10:15 and going in a body.

On Thursday night the membership committee of which Mrs. Frank Wagner, first vice-president of the club, is chairman, will hold a country dance card party in the Mike O'Connor Co. show room, with proceeds to go to furnishing the new wing of Bothwell Memorial Hospital. Refreshments will be served by the committee.

An essay contest will be conducted by the career advancement committee, of which Miss Erma Fajen is chairman, for high school girls who may enter the contest by writing on the subject: "Why I Want a Business or Professional Career." A prize of $10 will be given for the winning essay.

The final event of National BPW Week will be the district fall conference to be held at Gravois Mills on Sunday, Sept. 29, which a number of the members of the Sedalia Club plan to attend.

Officers of the Sedalia Club are: President, Miss Doris Stott; first vice-president, Mrs. Frank Wagner; second vice-president, Mrs. Marjorie Garanson; secretary, Mrs. Kurman Riley; treasurer, Miss Georgia Giokaris; chaplain, Mrs. Edith DeMott; historian, Mrs. Carl Goist; custodian, Miss Margaret Ferguson; sergeant-at-arms, Miss Wanda White; parliamentarian, Mrs. Florence Elliott; auditor, Mrs. Kenneth Middleton; honorary members, Miss Hazel Palmer and Mrs. Freida Nelson; and editor of Busy Lizzy, the club bulletin, Mrs. Everett Stumpf, with Miss Lois Fricke as assistant editor.

Syrian Denies Dulles Charge

States His Country No Peril To Turkey But Fears Israel

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—Syrian Foreign Minister Salah Bitar reached New York today to address the U. N. General Assembly. He denied Secretary of State Dulles' notion that Soviet arms in Syria threaten Turkey.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko meanwhile, in a memorandum published by the U.N., charged the Western Powers with attempts to "impose their will on the peoples of several countries in Africa and the Near East by military means."

He did so in asking formally that the Assembly put on its agenda an item on peaceful coexistence and urge governments to follow that principle.

The U. S. delegation's press secretary Francis W. Carpenter, said Gromyko had raised "old baseless charges against the West." He added in a statement, "They will be answered." Secretary of State Dulles meanwhile left New York to return to Washington.

In a general policy speech Thursday, Dulles told the 82-nation U.N. Assembly Turkey "faces growing military danger from the major buildup of Soviet arms in Syria." He reserved the United States' right to introduce "concrete proposals" on the Middle East later.

In his policy speech here yesterday, Gromyko charged the United States was interfering in Syria's affairs and trying to turn the Middle East "into a tinderbox." He declared the Soviet Union could not "watch impassively over a situation that affects its own security."

When he arrived at Idlewild Airport from Damascus today, Bitar told reporters the Middle Eastern situation was serious but would not be so "if the matter is left with the peoples of the Middle East."

"Syria does not constitute a danger to Turkey in any way," he said. "Turkey has not expressed this worry that Syria constitutes a danger."

He declined to say before studying Gromyko's speech whether he thought Russia was exercising a "stabilizing influence" in the Middle East.

He said Syria was arming to meet a danger to her existence from Israel. He added, "Syria can not look favorably at any state that is taking the side of Israel" and declared the United States "supports Israel throughout."

Bitar said Western Powers were committing aggression against the Arab world in Algeria—an obvious reference to France—and Oman and Yemen—a reference to Britain.

Magistrate Fines First Violators Of New Speed Law

The first penalties for violation of the new state speed law in Pettis County were handed down by Magistrate Frank Armstrong Saturday morning.

All three youths, who pleaded guilty to the charges, had admitted to Trooper Stockdell that they were racing. Stockdell testified in court that he had to travel at speeds over 100 miles per hour in order to catch up with them.

Charles Edwards, Kansas City, was fined $100 and costs and given a 90-day suspended jail sentence. Edwards had a record of previous offenses.

Bobbie Joe Burke and Harry Dale Harvey, both of LaMonte, were charged in a companion case. They were fined $25 each and costs.

The advanced drive is scheduled to be completed by Sept. 30 climaxed by a meeting that evening at the Bothwell Hotel to report the results.

The teams selected for the advanced drive by that division include: Team No. 1, Aaron Haller, Captain, Fred Cernic, Norman Pittcairn, Milton Skinner, James Van Wagner, E. O. Pasley, Jack Crawford and Jess Brown.

Team No. 2, Bob Cain, Captain, Clinton Muller, Jim Franks, Paul Heddrich, Charles Maggard, Philip McLaughlin and Jack Shoemaker.

Team No. 3, Tom Steink, Captain, Jim Green, Orville Green, Bill Hopkins, Bill Hurley, A. L. Hawkins, Elmer McClung, Dee Van Winkle, and Lawrence J. Brown.

Team No. 4, Marjorie Garanson, Lawrence Ward, Bruce Gardner, Gene Elliott and Bob Evans.

Team No. 5, John Handley, Captain, Myron Rodgers, Harold Silcase. They were fined $25 each and costs.

Last Year's Traffic Toll Has Meaning

The traffic death rate in Missouri hit a tragic high during the last four months of last year.

An average of 87 deaths were counted for each of the first eight months, but three of the last four months exceeded 100 deaths and the four months average was 108.

Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, patrol superintendent, says that we can view these figures with hope when we consider the significance of the tremendous reduction in traffic deaths over the Labor Day holiday weekend.

He said, "Last year's trend of traffic deaths indicates a possibility of 25 per cent increase in the remaining four months of this year. But our experience with a statewide alert program over the Labor Day period proves that a 75 per cent reduction is not impossible."

"The final death toll depends upon the attitude of the drivers," "Difference between these two probabilities," he added, "is 273 human lives. In one instance, 273 persons will be around to greet the new year; in the other, we will count their deaths before the new year arrives."

Waggoner pointed out that the reduction can be possible only if drivers take it upon themselves individually to use their best driving manners and be as alert to the hazards of traffic as they were over the Labor Day holiday period.

"Every death," he said, "is a shameful reminder of what can be done when drivers want to do their best."

Woman Finds Hotel Work Has Wide Variety of Experiences

Kathryn Davis at Bothwell Hotel switchboard

Practically everybody in Sedalia knows Kathryn Davis. Maybe the name doesn't register, but the smile does. Kathryn has been at desk at the Bothwell Hotel for the past seven years. Most Sedalians go into the hotel at one time or another, but, if they don't, they remember her in the box office at the Uptown Theatre. She was there seven years, too.

It was the smile and personality of the young woman in the box office at the Uptown that attracted F. B. Burger, then manager of the hotel.

"How would you like to go into hotel work?" Burger asked Kathryn.

She was surprised. She didn't know, she told him. She had never thought about it.

But it so happened that the hotel manager had been watching her for quite a while and found her always smiling, always friendly with everybody, and he liked her voice and manner with the public. He wanted to train her from the beginning.

So Kathryn changed jobs. She went to the hotel where she was first put on transcript work. She had had bookkeeping and that helped. It was night work, but Kathryn didn't mind; she had been working nights anyway up until show closing time. Then came her promotion to clerk. Three years ago she took over all the reservation work which includes the busy rush of Fair Week, all conventions and reservations. Her title was reservation manager.

A year ago a new switchboard was put in so that the clerk on duty now handles all the incoming and outgoing calls and the voice with a smile in it that answers: "Bothwell Hotel" all day long belongs to Kathryn, because now she is on the day desk.

Hotel work, Kathryn has found, is an ever-changing, ever-fascinating business. Each day brings new friends, new faces, new personalities and very often new problems. Many funny things happen, too, such as the day when she answered the telephone from one of the hotel rooms and a man, rather haltingly asked her where the bathroom was.

She explained to him that his room had a private bath and just to open the door, but since there was also a closet door in the room, the poor man was confused. He still couldn't find the bathroom and so she sent up one of the boys to show him where the bathroom was.

"Well, gosh," said the man when the boy had opened the bathroom door for him, "there wasn't anything written on it."

Then there was the timid little old lady who came in and wanted a room for the night during one Fair Week. It so happened that they had a small room available for that night, so Kathryn told her they could accommodate her. But by this time the little old lady had been looking around the lobby and saw all the men who had gathered in the lobby for dinner.

"Well, I dunno, should I be staying alone or not?" said the little old lady. "My sister said 'twas risky.'" So the dear old soul picked up her bag and walked out.

Of course the main event of the year is always Fair Week, which leaves everybody in the hotel breathless when it is over. To most Sedalians the Missouri State Fair is something that happens in August and nobody thinks too much about it until then, except the ones at the Fairgrounds planning it. But to the hotel it is a year-around job. This past year, says Kathryn, all the choice rooms for the Fair had been reserved by Jan. 1.

It was one Fair Week night that a lady called in for a reservation and, when Kathryn explained that all the hotel rooms were filled to capacity but they would try to locate her a room some other place, the excited voice on the other end of the telephone exclaimed, "Please do. My husband and I are bringing a horse," which left

Kathryn wondering if she was supposed find a room for all three. Her pet peeves, however, are when some unknown person walks rapidly up to the desk and says: "If I get any calls I'll be in the Coffee Shop." No names, no other information. Or for a woman to walk up and say: "Have you seen my husband?" and she has no idea who the woman is.

But there are other things that happen in a hotel, things to which Kathryn sometimes gives her off-duty hours. Like the night a young girl came into the hotel very ill. Kathryn went home, got her heating pad and returned to the hotel to stay with the girl and do what she could for her until the parents could fly here to take care of her.

Another night she stayed with a young woman who had lost her husband and baby in an accident, sitting beside her trying to comfort her while a sedative the doctor had given the woman took effect, because he had advised she should not be left alone.

Then there was the young woman who checked in with her husband and two other couples bound for a pleasant weekend at the Lake of the Ozarks and collapsed and died suddenly of a heart attack before she could even slip out of her coat. And the young insurance man who had been talking to a couple of small children in the lobby and then turned to talk to Kathryn with glowing pride of his own little family and how happy he was to be going home the next day. In less than an hour he was dead. He had slumped and died of an attack at dinner. It was hard to believe, said Kathryn, anyone could look so happy, young and healthy could be gone so soon.

There are celebrities, too, John Barrymore, Jr., Lou Breese, Charles Spivak, big league baseball players, and now and then movie stars.

But to be on a hotel desk one must be a walking bureau of information with ready answers to questions about train and bus schedules, plane information, suggestions for accommodations at other hotels in other cities, information on all points of local interest, the directions to hospitals, churches, factories, manufacturers banks and business buildings. "Would you believe it," said Kathryn, "I answer the phone many times a day just to give the correct time, temperature and in winter the road reports."

One day, early in the morning, a woman came in and asked her to her daughter up to the delivery room right away. She had gotten the Bothwells mixed, gone to the hotel instead of the hospital, and Kathryn quickly gave her directions to the hospital.

In addition to all her other duties, Kathryn orders and inventories all stock, magazines and newspapers to be sold in the concession department.

She probably leaves a good impression of the town with more strangers who visit the city than anybody else in Sedalia because the Bothwell Hotel is headquarters for all conventions held there. It is also her duty to receive, place and confirm all reservations made at the hotel from the commercial traveling guests, family groups, athletic groups, and she meets everybody.

Too, she meets all the town people because the Bothwell Hotel is the meeting place for the civic clubs—Rotary, Optimist, Lions and Kiwanis—every week. Other clubs that hold meetings there are the Knife and Fork, Business and Professional Women, American Business Women, Newcomers Welcome Wagon Club, Toastmasters, Ministerial Alliance and the P.B.X. Club, of which she is a president. And practically everybody in the city and county at one time or another attends meetings at the Bothwell.

She has worked for several managers since F. B. Burger started her on her career in the hotel business, the present manager being Curt Weaver.

"Life's parade passes my desk every day," says Kathryn, "ever changing, but always human. It's a broadening experience," and she might have added that she loves it, because she shows that she does.

Interview of Russian Leaders To Be BPWC Banquet Subject

RUSSIAN LEADER INTERVIEWED — Bea Johnson, who will be the speaker at the annual Public Affairs Banquet Oct. 2 of the Business and Professional Women's Club in Sedalia, is shown as she interviewed Premier Bulganin in Moscow on the tour of Russia that she will describe in her talk at the banquet.

Bea Johnson, director of Women's Activities for KMBC-KFRM-KMBC-TV and the first woman to step over the threshold of the offices of Bulganin, Marshal Zhukov and other top Russians, will be the speaker at the annual Public Affairs Banquet of the Business and Professional Women's Club to be held at the Smith-Cotton High School cafeteria on Wednesday, Oct. 2. This banquet meeting is open to the public.

The speaker will tell of her experiences as the first person from America or the free world — man or woman — ever to record a transcribed interview with the Russian leaders — any of them.

It was when she covered the Big Four conference in Geneva two years before that Bea Johnson came up with the idea. She had taken a group of broadcasters to Europe and a handful of women were the only ones given credentials along with 2,000 newsmen. Some Pravda official asked her to bring her group of women to Moscow anytime except on May Day. No Americans had ever been admitted on May Day, they told her, because Moscow is always so crowded with their own people.

She found you must deal with the top Russians, because she tried first with a lesser official but could get no answer. Then she tried writing to Intourist, Russia's official tourist bureau in Moscow, but received no answer. Then she tried calling Moscow by telephone and tried for days getting up at dawn and trying until 7 p.m. Russian time. Finally the Maupin Travel agency in Lawrence, Kan., with whom she had been working, received a cable that the Soviet Union had granted their visas for May Day. And the next day she had a good connection with Moscow and was told that all their wishes would be granted.

And so they went, 18 women, 17 of whom were broadcasters and writers, and American newsmen in Moscow said they were given the reddest red carpet treatment ever accorded Americans in the history of the USSR.

It is of some of the things that happened on this trip that she will tell in the fascinating speech which is entitled: "The Russian Rulers Told Me—"

Bea Johnson is a native of Warrensburg and a graduate of the University of Missouri. She and her husband, Dean Johnson, have two daughters, Becky, 15, and Jill, 11.

Mrs. Johnson will be introduced by Miss Opal O'Brian.

Mrs. McNew was especially honored by her mother, the Noble Grand, a birthday table was arranged for her which was covered with a green cloth and centered with a large birthday cake, graced on either side with triple candelabra holding pink and green candles. An arrangement of pink roses added to the attractiveness of the table.

State Officer Is Speaker At Moose Club

Dr. E. A. Boorehardt, past president of the Missouri Moose Association and now serving as Deputy Supreme Governor of the Loyal Order of the Moose, was guest speaker at the enrollment ceremonies held at the Moose Home on Sunday afternoon.

Introduced by Bruce Taylor, secretary of the St. Joseph Lodge, Dr. Boorehardt opened his talk with the question: "How Is Your Heart?" Explaining, he told his audience, "I mean your Moose heart, because heart is so important and vital in building membership and attaining the goals we have set for ourselves."

We need a spiritual heart, he said, a growing heart; we are a growing organization, sponsoring many worthy charities and projects. We need a "tough" heart—to iron out the difficulties when, or wherever they occur and to build character among our officers and members.

A "compassionate" heart is needed, he went on to say, following the example set by the "Good Samaritan" recognizing need and administering to it; a peaceful heart, so necessary if great things are to be accomplished; and above all, a "prayerful" heart, exemplifying the high ideals of the Loyal Order of the Moose by living for others.

In concluding, Dr. Boorehardt congratulated the Sedalia Lodge on its fine record of membership and noted that it is considered the most progressive in the state of Missouri.

Past Governor Cecil Curtis was recognized for his record of achievement and presented a jeweled merit pin. Responding to the presentation, Curtis expressed deep appreciation for the honor and credited the members with earning it for him.

Several out-of-town guests were in attendance including Charles Humpfelt, Lexington, vice-president of the 2nd District.

Jimmie Swafford offered a group of pantomime numbers. Dressed as a hillbilly with his guitar, Jimmie gave an entertaining performance which was a hit with the large audience.

Refreshments were served, rounding out the evening for members and their families.

Poultry Industry Questions Are Answered at Meeting

A questionnaire on the poultry industry served as a basis for an interested group of men and women which included feed dealers, producers and others in business to learn what the necessary steps were in getting the industry started in this area at a meeting Friday morning at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Fred Scantlin, territory manager for Pillsbury Mills, Inc., Minneapolis, Minn., whose business it is to assist communities in such a project, was highly complimentary of the questionnaire which seemed to have all the necessary questions.

The poultry business, said Scantlin, is an ever-changing business. A few years ago it made millions, because at that time chickens were selling at 33 cents a pound. Today they are only about 16 cents a pound, but, if managed right, it still gives an added income to the farm family of around a thousand dollars a year on 5,000 broilers. The main thing, he pointed out, is getting the houses and equipment for the first year. Usually, he commented, after the business is started with 5,000 chicks, it grows into 10,000, 15,000 or more later. It is seldom the main source of income but some farmers have built into that.

The questionnaire and answers given by Scantlin follow:

Q. Who promotes the poultry industry in an area?

A. Feed manufacturers and approved dealers in the area.

Q. What means are used to promote the industry?

A. Bankers loan to build buildings; feed companies to furnish broilers and turkeys. The amount needed to start scares the bankers but to a man whose credit is good he will loan the money for buildings. The dealers will give the credit for the chickens or turkeys and feed. There are very few cash deals.

Q. How are the operations financed?

A. On a FHA Title I loan. Chicks of the late Henry Weber and Caroline Pieper Weber.

She was married to Andrew Renken on April 19, 1908, who preceded her in death.

She is survived by one daughter, Elsie Pearl Tinney, Cole Camp, one brother, Walter Weber, Sweet Springs, and two grandchildren. Two sisters preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held Sunday, Sept. 22, at 2 p. m. at the Trinity Lutheran Church, Cole Camp, of which she was a member. The Rev. Walter Dierking will officiate.

Pallbearers will be Leonard Goss, Ed Helbner, Roy Donnell, Walter Harms, Rudy Brauer, and Leonard Renken.

Burial will be in the Crown Hill Cemetery, Sedalia.

The body is at the Eickhoff Funeral Home, Cole Camp

Anna Margaret Harms

Anna Margaret Harms, 77, Cole Camp, died at 6 p. m. Friday at the Wetzel Hospital in Clinton.

She was born April 23, 1864, daughter of the late Jacob Brockman and Margarete Borchers Brockman.

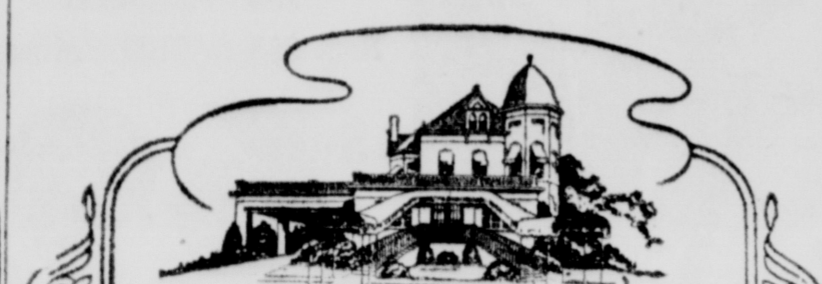

On April 20, 1900, she was married to Fred C. Harms. Four children were born to this marriage. She is survived by two sons, Rev. Oliver C. Harms, Houston, Tex., and Norbert Harms, Midland, Tex.; one daughter, Mrs. Alma Schnakenberg, Cole Camp, six grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Ernest Harms, Ionia, Mrs. Mary Harms, Greeley, Colo., and one brother, Fred Brockman, Cole Camp. Her husband and one brother preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held Monday, Sept. 23, at the Eickhoff Funeral Home at 1 p. m., and at the St. Johns Church, Cheese Creek at 1:30 p. m., with the Rev. Carl H. Wolf officiating.

4-H Round-Up

OWEN FOX

Pettis County Assoc. Agent

Dates Ahead

Oct. 1—Community leaders and 4-H club secretary are to turn in 4-H records by or before this date.

Oct. 1—County 4-H Junior Leaders Council meeting, 8 p.m. in assembly room of courthouse.

Oct. 1 begins new 4-H club year. In order that your club may get off to a good start in the new club year, here is a reminder of some things that need to be done:

1. Elect new officers (September or October).

2. Install new officers—an installation ceremony is available. Please request copies at the extension office.

3. Elect County 4-H Council delegates. Send names to extension office by October 15. One 4-H club member from each club with a membership of 25 or less and two (preferably a boy and a girl) from clubs with more than 25 members and the community leader make up the 4-H Council delegation.

4. Members enroll in 4-H for the new year by filling out an enrollment card (community leaders pick up enough enrollment cards for each member in your club or notify us to mail them to you) you may need some report of meeting cards for your reporter, too.

5. Members select 4-H projects for new year. Members are encouraged to enroll in projects where there will be five or more members in a project group. From reports over the state this has made each project stronger, has made the whole club stronger, and has made it easier to find project leaders.

6. A community leader and sufficient project leaders are needed. Each project leader with five or more members will receive a project leaders kit this year. The state 4-H office sent the kits for these leaders only. Community leaders are to pick up these kits after you have recognized and know which project leaders have five or more in their project.

7. 4-H community leaders should be brought up to date (two meetings for 4-H community leaders will be held in November) On Nov. 14, the meeting will be for those who have served as community leaders two years or less, and a meeting Nov. 15 for those who have served over two years as community leader. You will have the opportunity to get your kits up to date at this meeting, if you have not already done so.

8. A blue ribbon and gold seal clubs—application should be filled out by community leader and returned to the extension office by Oct. 10.

9. Community leaders are to turn in a 4-H club temporary enrollment sheet and enrollment cards by Dec. 1. The rule for Pettis County is that a 4-H member who was in 4-H last year must enroll again by Jan. 1. A member joining your club for the first time may enroll as late as April 1. If members enroll after your temporary enrollment is sent in just mail the enrollment card to us and we will add this member to your enrollment blank here in the office.

10. Here are the goals set up by your County 4-H Council for 1958 (each club is to strive to help the council meet the goals):

1. Organize at least two new clubs.

2. Retain 90 per cent of the older 4-H members 14 years and older.

3. Increase present 4-H membership 10 per cent.

4. Ninety-two per cent completion of projects.

5. Seventy per cent of leaders attend leaders training meetings.

Regarding the above goals, please let us know if you know of some area in the county wanting to organize a 4-H club. Encourage older members to enroll in the junior leadership project. To increase the membership, some clubs may want to have a membership drive.

11. Pick up material for new year—we would prefer that the community leader bring or send your temporary enrollment blank to us and we will fill your order from that.

At Dedication Today

Hazel Palmer to Cut Ribbon
Opening BPW Headquarters

It was when Hazel Palmer, a member of the Sedalia Business and Professional Women's Club, became president of the National Federation that Charm Magazine, in its October, 1956, issue, said she would literally be kept hopping this year — by airplane between her law practice in Sedalia and the BPW's Washington, D. C., headquarters.

It was right. That is exactly what she has been doing, and the trips have not been just between Sedalia and Washington, either; they have been all over — to state conventions, regional meetings and all kinds of events.

The article went on to say that her plans included a new club building.

Right again. Today Hazel will cut the gold ribbon with gold scissors in the dedication ceremony of the new Business and Professional Women's Headquarters at 2012 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Washington, D. C.

The headquarters had always been located in New York City, but the Federation executives felt the need to be closer to things in Washington, and so, with her new duties as national president, Hazel Palmer went house-hunting for a new location in Washington. She found what she wanted, a 31-room house, and on Nov. 27, 1956, in Washington, D. C., received the title from Samuel Spencer, executor of the estate.

The Federation paid $150,000 for the property and it has been completely remodeled and redecorated at a cost of approximately $100,000.

The new building has a new executive director, too. For it was shortly after Hazel's election to the highest office in the National Federation that Rose Leibbrand, also a member of the Sedalia Business and Professional Women's Club, received the appointment as director.

At the dedication today will be past national presidents, state presidents, Business and Professional Women from over the entire nation, and a number of celebrities from Washington, D. C.

The dedication opens the activities all over the nation of National Business Women's Week, Sept. 22-28.

Another thing that Miss Palmer has done since taking office is to change the name of the National Business and Professional Women's magazine from "Independent Woman" to "The National Business Woman", which she felt was a more fitting title.

One of the things Hazel has stressed is membership. Progress in the Federation depends greatly on its growth, for this organization is a symbol of the working women throughout the nation, and its strength to accomplish great things lies in its ever-increasing membership. She has challenged the clubs all over the nation to grow in numbers, and they have been doing just that.

Her own club has not failed her. It accepted the challenge and during her first year at the helm of the National Federation added 30 new members. Under the new membership chairman, Shirley Wagner, who is first vice-president, the club has already added eight new members this year. The total membership is now 184. The local club, too, is now attracting many young business women who are just starting their careers, and there is an eagerness about them to help, to do anything they are called upon to do.

Miss Hazel Palmer at her desk in Washington

Among the things that Hazel has been fighting for is equal rights and equal pay for women. She has made her voice heard, in behalf of her federation and all women, at every opportunity.

In January, 1957, she was hostess at a luncheon given in Washington by the Federation for women in government, at which Vice-President Richard Nixon was the speaker and Mrs. Nixon was also a special guest.

At the 35th Annual Convention of the Missouri Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club, held in Kansas City, Hazel was there and spoke to the assembly. More recently Hazel was a speaker at the Regional Convention held in Denver, as was Rose Leibbrand. This was attended by several Sedalia members. Another recent meeting was the board meeting at Detroit, Mich.

She has tried to appear at as many conventions, conferences and meetings as possible, and strangely enough, in all her busy schedule from one end of the country to the other, she has done a remarkable job of attending the monthly dinner meetings of her own local club. There is nothing she enjoys more than just being home and among her own club members. She doesn't want to sit at the speaker's table, either, she just wants to be one of the gang. Now it is even nicer, because her sister, Mrs. Burleigh Jeffries, has also become a member of the local BPWC.

Among the many honors that have been bestowed upon Hazel was the national honorary degree of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority this past summer. This is the highest degree in the sorority and is given only to outstanding women. The local Beta Sigma Phi members were responsible for the honor, and the degree, making her a national honorary member, was bestowed upon her by a national officer at Bothwell Hotel in Sedalia.

Develops Superior Group

Rev. Schmitt Has Directed
Boys Town Choir 16 Years

When the 50 singing citizens of famed Boys Town, Nebraska, arrive here on Thursday, Oct. 10, for their Boys Town Choir concert, they will be headed by a young and enthusiastic priest whose musicianship is matched only by his zeal for the boys' welfare.

The Rev. Francis Schmitt, director of the Boys Town Choir, has a tough job and loves it. After being ordained in 1941, he was assigned to Boys Town, and in 16 years he has developed the choir from an amateur group into a choir called by critics "second to none and superior to most."

Boys Town was familiar territory to Rev. Schmitt, born and brought up in West Point, Neb. He attended West Point grade schools, then St. Lawrence preparatory school at Mount Calvary, Wis., and St. Paul Seminary at St. Paul, Minn. At St. Lawrence, Rev. Schmitt was assigned as organist; at St. Paul, he studied music under the late Dom Francis Missia who held his talent in high regard.

After his ordination in Omaha, Rev. Schmitt celebrated his first solemn mass at St. Mary's Church, his home parish, and then took up duties as assistant to the late and beloved Msgr. Edward J. Flanagan, founder and director of Boys Town. With boys and music as his life, Rev. Schmitt has discovered unbelievable abilities in juveniles with no previous training, building the Boys Town Choir from 35 voices to more than 200.

Fifty voices are chosen annually on the basis of performance and seniority, for the concert choir. Competition runs high for places in the touring choir, for annual tours since 1946 have carried this group 90,000 miles for some 400 concerts through the United States and Canada. While they vie for the opportunity to go on tour, a major problem among the lads, as sickness. Once the final concert is each tour nears its end, is home- over, the boys invariably vote to skip last night parties, once loading the buses in 12 minutes to head back to Boys Town to rejoin their friends at the Home.

Still, the Boys Town Choir and its able director consider the tour a lot of fun, a signal honor, and an experience they wouldn't miss for the world!

DeBord Family Excellently Represents Pettis County

It was a brand new idea that M. C. Ervin, secretary of the Missouri State Fair and other Fair officials came up with this year, a plan to entertain a typical farm family from each county on Monday of the Fair and designate it as Farm Family Day.

It seemed to go over better than they expected, too, because they figured that there would be probably 25 or so counties accept their invitation—but instead, there were 77 counties with a total of 350 people. A good part of that number was children, with four families having seven each.

The Farm Family from Pettis County was the Leonard W. DeBord family, which consists of the father, mother and three children—Catherine, 17, who prefers to be called Cathy, Robert, 14, and Linda, seven. This family, as were all the families, was chosen by the Agricultural Extension Council of their county. The council is composed of a chairman from each township.

The DeBords live on a 320-acre farm and rent an additional eighty acres. Leonard and Bobby do all the farming and in addition have 180 hogs and 60 steers.

The mother and Cathy do their share of the work that women and girls on a farm usually do, but the family has a great deal of time to play, too. Music is a part of their life, and while they are in many musical programs and activities not only in their own community but Sedalia as well, they also like having music in the home. Cathy has become pretty well known for her accordion playing throughout the county and, in addition, plays the piano, organ and clarinet and sings in the school glee club. Robert plays the trumpet, and like Cathy, is in the Hughesville School Band. He also plays the piano, as does the mother. Linda is taking piano lessons. Pop seems to be the only one who doesn't play an instrument, but he joins in the singing. It is a singing family, as well, and the DeBords like to share their fun, so they invite the neighbors in often, especially the boys in the neighborhood. They have song fests two or three times a week.

The DeBords are a little mixed up as to where they really live, not that they don't know themselves but it's a little confusing. They live between Hughesville and Houstonia, the children go to Hughesville to school, they attend the Houstonia Community Church in which they are all active and their mail—well, that comes through LaMonte!

In the church Mrs. DeBord is pianist at Sunday School and church and is a leader of the young people. Mr. DeBord was formerly Sunday School superintendent, and the youngsters are in all activities for their respective ages.

Leonard is a graduate of the University of Missouri School of Agriculture and belongs to the Farm Bureau, serving on many committees. Mrs. DeBord is a member of the Meet Your Neighbor Extension Club, of which she has been president for the past two years. She is a 4-H leader of the Happy Helpers 4-H Club and in that club Cathy is song leader and Robert a 4-H Council representative.

They all like horses, and go horseback riding together, even Linda, who has a Shetland pony.

It isn't any wonder that such a wholesome, fun loving family that likes to work together and play together would be suggested by neighbors and selected by the county group to represent Pettis County as the typical Farm Family.

It was quite a day they spent at the Fair, too. It started at 1 p.m. when they were guests at the harness races. They were greeted by Colie Ervin, fair secretary, Haskell Holman, state auditor speaking for the governor, and John Sam Williamson, secretary of agriculture. After the races they were taken by shuttlebus to Fairacres where they were served a picnic dinner, fried chicken and all the trimmings.

It was really fun for they met a lot of people they knew and didn't know would be there. They made many new friends, too.

They were later taken back to the fairgrounds by shuttlebus to attend the horse show.

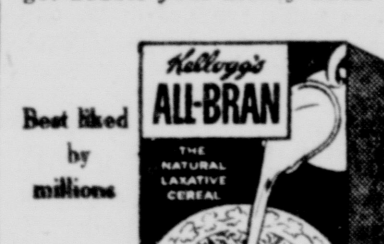

Farm Family Day at the Missouri State Fair was a real success and it is already in the plans for next year.

Tigers Foiled as Central Hangs On First Loss 18-13

Second Half Sees Early Lead Vanish

Smith-Cotton, playing St. Joseph Central off their feet the first half of their game Friday night, fell apart and saw a victory vanish into defeat to a fighting bunch of Indians. The Tiger had its tail twisted to the tune of 18 to 13.

With less than a minute to go, a touchdown play good for 70 yards, Don Briscoe to Kurt Brown, was the breaking point of the game. The Tigers appeared at a loss the remaining two quarters, especially after they were held and made to fumble on the Indians three yard line after the second half opened up.

It was a clicking bunch of boys in gold from the opening of the game. They received the ball on the kickoff and drove down the center of the gridiron time after time, making four straight downs. Then Karl Kasak carried it five yards for the touchdown.

Kasak then carried it across for the extra point. The Tigers led 7-0, that first quarter.

In the second quarter the Tigers had possession of the ball on their opponents 40 yard line. Two first downs, then Tommy Herrick fumbled on the try for the extra point and it was 3 points for the Tigers.

But in those last five minutes of the first half after the Tiger kickoff the Indians lost the ball on a fumble by Bob Dyson on their own 37 yard line. The Tigers made four tries and failed. Then Central took over on their own 29 yard line. Dyson added a yard, then it happened. Don Briscoe made a terrific pass to Brown and he was away—70-long yards to a touchdown. Steve Beaver passed to Jack Stuber for the extra point, but interference by Central nullified the extra point.

Smith-Cotton lead at the half 13 to 6.

The breaking point of the Tigers attempted comeback came in the opening of the third quarter. Roger Gates kicked off and Central took over on the 21 yard line. On the first play Beaver tried a pass and Melvin Brown intercepted it and the ball was on the 16 yard line. Herrick added nine yards on two plays, then Kasak fumbled, recovered and lost a yard. Bryan made a first down on three yards and the ball was on the six. He then added two, Herrick one, and it was moved to the three yard line, then Woodsmall fumbled and Charles Payne of Central recovered on the three yard line.

The Indian drive started. The first down put it on the 3, then Dyson picked up eight, then went down the field 33 yards with Bobby Garrison stopping the run on Sedalia's 41. Beaver to Stuber added 24 yards taking it to the 17. A first down and it was on the four yard line, Briscoe carried it over, and a Beaver to Stuber pass was no good for the extra point.

The quarter ended with the Tigers having a one-point edge of 13-12.

The Tigers had the ball on their own 33 at the opening of the fourth stanza. Woodsmall picked up four yards, then Stuber intercepted Bryan's pass on Sedalia's 40 and returned to the 30. On the next play Stuber really shook up the Tigers, when he took the ball on a double reverse and shot around his own right end for the touchdown. Again a Beaver to Stuber pass for the extra point was no good.

From then on the game was played entirely in the Smith-Cotton territory with little threat being shown from the Tiger aggregation. Central had possession of the ball at the gun and was on the Tiger five yard line.

Next week will be another hard week of work for the Tigers trying to smooth out some of the wrinkles and getting back on solid footing. They open the home stand next Friday night on the gridiron at the Jennie Jaynes Memorial Stadium with Springfield Central.

Broadway Lanes Hold Big Opening

The Broadway Bowling Lanes, representing a more than $300,000 investment in the Sedalia area's interest in bowling competition, was ceremoniously opened to the public Friday night.

The formalities were begun at 7 o'clock when the Rev. D. Warren Neal, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation. He was escorted by the Rev. A. J. Brunswick, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, and Ab Rosenthal, lay rabbi of the Jewish congregation of Temple Beth-El.

Jimmie Glenn, an owner and sportscaster of KDRO, who was master of ceremonies at the opening, welcomed these in attendance and made introductions.

First introduced were the members of Chip Enterprises, Inc., who constructed the lanes—Walter Cramer, Carl Schrader, Jim Watkins and Leon Ellis.

Charles Thompson, co-owner, was introduced and extended his own welcome to the crowd. Also introduced were his wife, Betty Rose, and his son, Chip, for whom Chip Enterprises, Inc., was named.

Next to be introduced was Jim Carter, Thompson's partner in ownership of the Broadway Bowling Lanes.

Also introduced and making brief remarks were Mayor Julian H. Bagby and Vernon L. Rodick, president of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce.

Others acknowledged were: Police Chief Edgar Neighbors; Capt. Willis I. Russell, Special Services officer at Whiteman Air Force Base; Lt. Col. Arthur H. James, director of personnel at the air base; Councilmen Carleton Kelley, Earl Paxton, Dr. Ira White, Aubrey Case, Pat Clark, Harry Moore and R. N. Snavely; Milt Hinelein, owner of KDRO-TV; and George H. Scruton, editor of The Democrat-Capital.

Bob Noland conducted the presentation of gifts to lucky members of the crowd a pair of bowling shoes, bowling ball and a bowling bag.

The high point of the evening was the cutting of the ribbon stretched across the 16 gleaming alleys and the rolling of the first balls by the special guests: Rev. Neal, Rev. Brunswick, Rosenthal, Mayor Bagby, Rodick, Capt. Russell, Col. James, the seven Councilmen (Woodrow Garrison could not attend), Hinelein and Scruton. Each was posted at the head of an alley and instructed to roll his ball when the ribbon was cut.

Mayor Bagby's ball was first down the alley and was a thundering gutter ball. Four foul lines blazed as the guests lunged forward to deliver. Councilmen Paxton and White scored strikes and were congratulated upon their form. Editor George Scruton, "pinch bowling" for D. Kelley Scruton, sports editor of the Democrat-Capital, was as graceful as a gazelle but, unfortunately, his ball rolled down the gutter. Later reports had it that his second attempt brought down eight pins Kelly could not attend, since he was at the Smith-Cotton-St. Joseph football game in St. Joseph.

When the laughs and cheers had died down, the lanes were officially announced open to the public. Many bowlers had already signed up for alleys, and games began immediately.

Among the many other sports figures attending the occasion were Billy Martin and Hal Smith of the Kansas City Athletics, who arrived at about 8:30, too late to be introduced. They had been invited by the owners and were able to be on hand when the scheduled Kansas City game between the Athletics and Detroit was rained out.

Sports Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

THERE are those people who call themselves sportsmen—and there are those people who are sportsmen—we have 'em both around this area according to some sportsmen discussing the wildlife problems of Central Missouri. The real sportsmen are those who are cooperation with the Conservation Commission, and also showing cooperation with the farmers upon whose lands they must hunt.

Although the Commission isn't saying anything about the "so-called" Sportsmen, they feel like the real Sportsmen, the time has come for them to either show their sportsmanship by starting to follow the rules and regulations. Also offering their help to the real Sportsmen in planning shelter and feedings for Missouri's wildlife.

There are those people, who will buy a license to hunt and fish, but are hard to find when some assistance is needed to discuss the real problems of saving Missouri's wildlife from the elements so there will be plenty of game to hunt.

On the whole thought, Sedalia's contribution to Sportsmen isn't too bad, but there are those "hungry few" who would rather go out and take advantage of hunting areas where other Sportsmen have worked hard to build up. Go out and do wholesale slaughter. Those are the people who should be "squealed upon" and punished by the courts. They'll have a license, but they'll cheat if they think the Conservation Agent isn't around.

The Sedalia Lions Club had an interesting program on Missouri's quail, rabbit and other wildlife furnished by Ray M. Wells, chief of the field service for the Commission. It would do well for other organizations to hear either him or representatives of the Conservation Commission.

For those who don't already know he announced the duck season will open on Nov. 10 and continue through January 31, 1958.

Deer season is a little early this year with the opening on Nov. 5th through the 9th.

FRIDAY night the opening of the Broadway Bowling Lanes was almost like a World Premier with all the fan fare.

DALLAS, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Texas A & M fought a rugged Maryland and crippling penalties for most of four periods today before crashing through to a 21-13 victory, in a game that wound up in a driving rain.

Roddy Osborne, the busy Aggie quarterback, scored one touchdown, passed for another then crashed through to block the extra point try on Maryland's second touchdown that prevented the Terps from pulling into a tie.

Aggie center John Gilbert was put out of the game in the second period for slugging guard Rodney Breedlove of Maryland.

Twice in the first half, Newman's tosses brought touchdowns with end Jack Fanning receiving.

Newman's stand-in, Bunny Aldrich, connected on still another touchdown pass in the second quarter, Gail Cogdill receiving and the 20-6 halftime lead foretold the outcome.

Dodgers' Move to L.A. Is Reported

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Los Angeles has the official announcement of the move of the franchise will be made on the final day of the season Sept. 29, an authoritative source told the Associated Press today.

"Only one minor obstacle stands in the way and that is expected to be hurdled by midweek," the source said. "The official announcement will be made on the final day of the season although the National League probably will be notified several days before."

The Dodgers must notify the league before Oct. 1 on their decision to move the club from Ebbets Field to the City of the Angels.

The Dodgers, as usual, declined to make any comment. But a New York City official had some caustic words for Dodger President Walter O'Malley.

"O'Malley knew all along he was going to Los Angeles," said William Peer, executive secretary to Mayor Robert Wagner. "He just wanted to lay the blame on the door of City Hall."

The Dodgers apparently thumbed down New York yesterday when O'Malley rejected the latest financing proposal by millionaire Nelson Rockefeller.

"It's too rich for my blood," he said.

Thus the storied Brooks were all set to make the trans-continental journey next year from old Ebbets Field to the 300 acres of Chavez Ravine, an area of rolling, grass covered hills within a mile of City Hall.

Under this deal with Los Angeles, O'Malley will turn over to that city the one-block square Wrigley Field, the Pacific Coast League park for which the Dodgers paid about $2,000,000 last spring, O'Malley and Los Angeles will share the oil and mineral rights of Chavez Ravine.

Rockefeller had offered first to buy for $2,000,000 the 12 acres of land in downtown Brooklyn which O'Malley said he had to have for a new ballpark. The City Council rejected the bid, pointing out that the condemnation proceedings would cost about $8,000,000.

Rockefeller then boosted the offer to $3,000,000 but O'Malley quickly turned this down. The Dodger boss said that the contract permitting the Dodgers to buy the land from Rockefeller after using it rent free for 20 years.

"This called for use to pay 2 1/2 per cent interest," said O'Malley, "and eventually it would cost us $4,500,000. It's too rich for my blood."

Moore Is Full Of Confidence After Victory

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Archie Moore, the old pappy of the fight game, faced the future with the brimming confidence of youth today following his thundering victory over Tony Anthony in defense of his light heavyweight crown.

They call Moore aging, but ageless would be a better tag for the over-40 fighter who crumpled the strong, young challenger last night with a barrage of blows that had even the ringsiders cringing.

Someone who apparently had a pocket adding machine with him said Archie crashed home 58 consecutive punches to Anthony's head and body in the final seconds of the sixth round. That was really the end although Anthony made a game try in the seventh before Archie's sledgehammer blows sent his sprawling for keeps.

Relaxed and beaming in his dressing room after the fight Moore talked expansively of his willingness to meet practically anyone, up to and including heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

"I'd like to knock over a few fighters—a couple of light heavyweights and a couple of heavyweights—and force Patterson into a rematch," said Archie, who was knocked out by the heavyweight champion last November.

MU Tigers Hold Vandy To a 7-7 Deadlock

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 21 (AP)—Favored Vanderbilt had to come from behind tonight to gain a 7-7 tie with the alert Missouri Tigers in an inter-sectional football opener.

The game, played between showers before 19,000 fans, was only one minute and 30 seconds old when center Tom Swaney intercepted a Vanderbilt pass and twisted 51 yards for a touchdown, Charley Rash converted.

Vanderbilt deadlocked it early in the second quarter on a 69-yard drive in 14 plays.

Both teams threatened several times but the slippery ball squirted from wet hands several times to stop scoring drives.

Ruebin Cordes Wins Horseshoe Tournament

The horseshoe pitching tournament at Washington Park turned into a "pitchers' battle" the past week when Ruebin Cordes of Sedalia and Wayne Winston of LaMonte, were knotted in the finals. A play-off was necessary to determine the winner of the tournament and Cordes came out on top.

Twelve men were entered in the tournament and as many or more are expected to be in the weekly tournament to be held this Thursday night at the same court.

A Horseshoe Club has been organized for Sedalia and vicinity fans. Bud Larson was elected president; Charles Lueck, vice-president; and Bob Hartley as secretary-treasurer.

Winners the past week in order were: Cordes, Winston, Bud Beard, Warrensburg; Gordon Greer, Sedalia; George Beard, Warrensburg; Bud Larson, Sedalia, Ed. Schlobohm, Smithton, Mickey McNeil, Bill Renfrow, Bob Hartley, Davie Miller, and Ivan Montgomery, all of Sedalia.

Midshipmen Crush Boston College 46-6

NEWTON, Mass., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Versatile Navy crushed Boston College 46-6 today as the Midshipmen launched their football year of destiny spurred by quarterback Tom Forrestal and Captain Ned Oldham.

Forrestal, the slick field general from Cleveland, completed seven of 10 passes for 143 yards and two touchdowns in the first 17 minutes of the contest.

Oldham contributed two touchdowns and three conversions as well as vital yardage on marches to key the swift-striking Navy winged-T offense.

Sugar Ray Meets Basilio

Welterweight Title Goes On The Line Monday Night

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, still a ring master at the age of 37, pits his experience and knockout power against rugged Carmen Basilio, a crowd-pleasing body puncher, in their battle for the world middleweight championship Monday night at Yankee Stadium.

Despite Robinson's unprecedented feat of winning the middle weight title four times, he has been the underdog since the match first was suggested. Welterweight champ Basilio, seven years younger and about seven pounds lighter, has been favored at odds ranging from 6 to 5 up to 8 to 5. However, there is a solid bloc that insists Sugar Ray will be the choice at ring time.

Early talk of a million dollar gate stopped when Robinson threatened to pull out of the fight in a dispute over theater television receipts. The damage never has been fully repaired. International Boxing Club officials now talk of 40,000 fans and receipts of $700,000.

There will be no home television of this 15-round match but it will be shown in 173 theaters with 500,000 seats in 130 cities across the nation on theater television. Robinson has been guaranteed $225,000 and Basilio $110,000 from that source alone, a concrete victory for Sugar Ray in his sitdown strike. The fight will start at 8:30 p.m. (CST), a half hour later than usual. It will be heard on radio (NBC).

For the first time since Heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano retired undefeated, boxing fans appear genuinely excited about a big fight. Robinson's ability is deeply respected by all who have learned to appreciate his vast talent. Basilio has become the "people's choice" with the TV customers on the strength of his tremendously exciting bouts with Tony DeMarco and his controversial series with Johnny Saxton.

Basilio's title, of course, will not

I-State's New Offense Is Good for 10-0 Win

AMES, Iowa, Sept. 21.—(AP)—New Coach Jim Myers brought the single wing offense to Iowa State this fall and the Cyclones turned it on Denver today for a 10-0 victory. The Cyclones, a T-formation team in recent luckless years, performed smartly in their new offense.

After Lyle Carlson kicked a 37-yard field goal from a difficult angle to open the scoring, Iowa State powered 62 yards for its touchdown.

Dwight Nichols, 160-pound tail-back, was the driving force in Iowa State's second half attack. He scored the touchdown on a six-yard sweep of right end late in the third quarter.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Norman Stewart, star basketball and baseball player for the University of Missouri, today was named freshman coach in those two sports.

He succeeds Gerald Hedgepeth who resigned to enter private business.

He earned all-conference honors in basketball two seasons and in baseball one season.

USAF Captain Gets Life For Spy Attempt

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 21 (AP)—An Air Force captain-bombardier who bungled badly in a spy attempt was sentenced to life imprisonment for attempting to sell A-bomb secrets to Russia for $27,500.

The bizarre case of Capt. George H. French, 36-year-old father of three, came to light only after the results of a secret court-martial were announced by 2nd Air Force headquarters.

The details, supplied by the Pentagon, included a note dropped on the lawn of the Soviet Embassy in Washington, interception of the note by alert U. S. agents and French's entrapment in a New York hotel rendezvous.

French, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., made his unsuccessful spy attempt while on leave last April, the air force said. He was convicted yesterday of trying to sell the Russians documents and diagrams on aircraft handling of atomic bombs.

Pittsburgh Corning Plant Here Has Impact on Half the World

Foamglas Blocks Are Shipped West of Indiana and to Canada, Alaska and the Far East
Missouri Sand Is Mixed With Other Ingredients From Across Nation and Canada

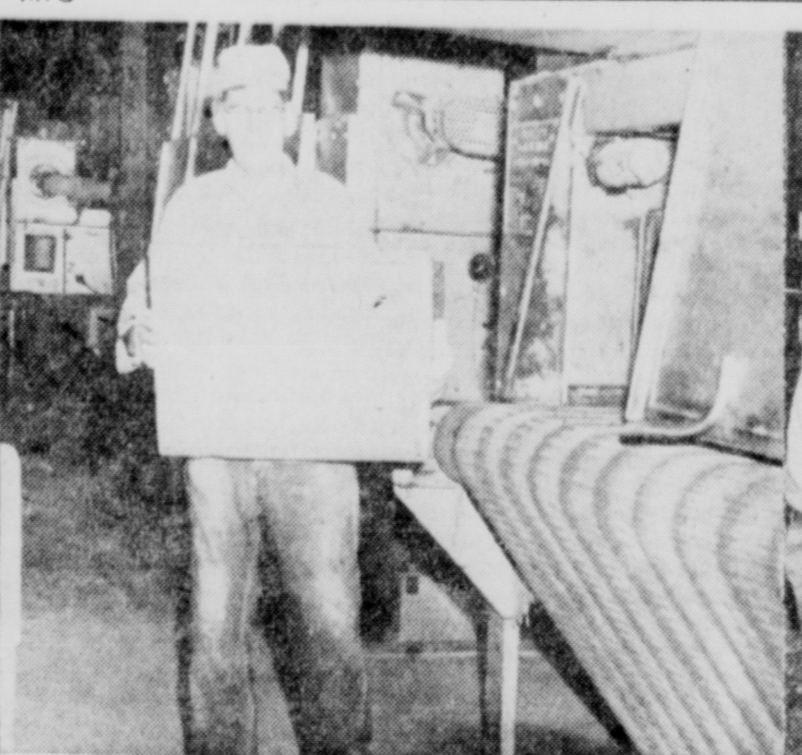

SECTION TWO

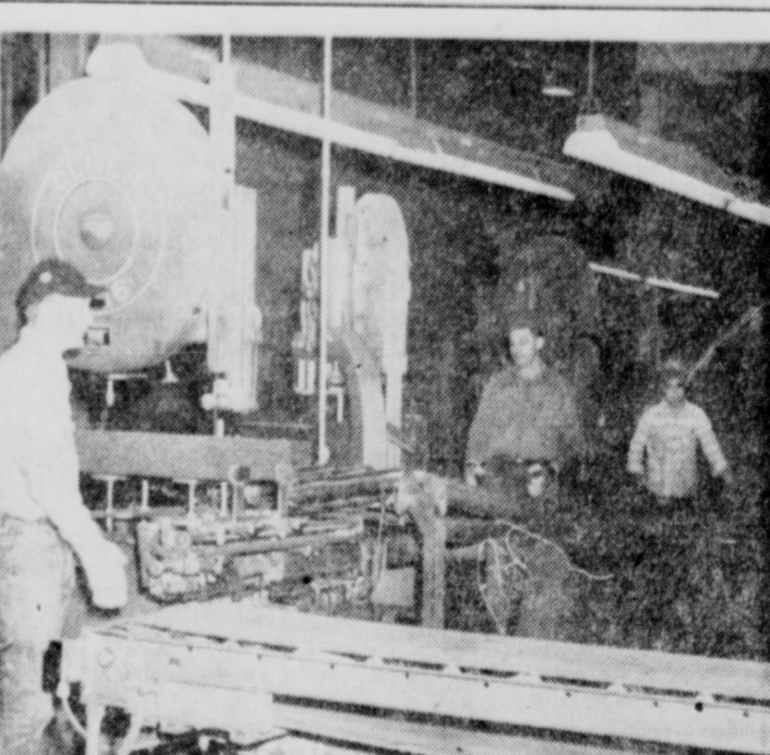

PRODUCTION LINE STARTS HERE—Production of Foamglas at the Pittsburgh Corning Co. plant in Sedalia begins when a stream of molten glass drops between these rollers and is rolled into a thin ribbon of glass which is then broken up and ground into a fine powder.

JUST LIKE A BREAD LOAF—A block of Foamglas is lifted from its baking pan after the powder has been placed in the pan and baked. It is still hot, hence the asbestos mitts and pad and the face mask.

EASIER TO HANDLE NOW—The block is removed from the cooling machine, through which it travels on a conveyor belt. The man wears mitts not because of the heat, but because the block is abrasive.

READY FOR SHIPMENT—Last step is to guide the block through this hand saw, which cuts it to standard size. Eight inches wide, the blocks are produced in both 12-inch and 24-inch lengths.

Shows Faith In Sedalia

Success of Product Required Expansion

On the west edge of Sedalia is a group of buildings that have an impact on half of the world. These are the buildings of the Pittsburgh Corning Corporation. Most Sedalians and Central Missourians refer to them as the glass plant.

The finished produce emerging from this plant is called Foamglas. It is shipped to national markets west of Indianapolis, Ind. Internationally, it is shipped to Canada, Hawaii, Alaska, the Philippine Islands and to other far eastern markets.

Few people know that Pittsburgh Corning is the only manufacturer of Foamglas.

At first glance, it is difficult to believe Foamglas is really glass. Its dark appearance and cellular makeup bear no resemblance to glass. Yet, it is made up of the same sort of materials that are used in glass for windows and tableware. Sand, limestone, soda ash, borax and other materials are used.

The sand comes from high grade deposits just north of Jefferson City, Mo. The limestone comes from Ohio. Other materials are shipped in from Texas, California, West Virginia, New Mexico, Virginia, New Jersey and Canada.

All these materials are mixed together and are then melted in a huge furnace, to form glass. The glass is then drawn from the furnace and is rolled into the form of a ribbon. Up to this point, the process is much like the melting of glass materials for use in making the many glass objects so familiar to us.

Beginning with the glass ribbon, Pittsburgh Corning does many strange things to the glass. First, the ribbon of glass is broken up into fine pieces. These pieces are put into huge grinding mills that grind the glass into a very fine powder.

This powder is then put into stainless steel pans, covered, and put into an oven to "bake". As these pans move on through the oven, the glass begins to rise just as a cake mixture rises in your oven at home.

At the end of the oven, the rough slabs of Foamglas are removed from the pans. The slab is placed on a continuously moving belt and goes through a controlled cooling process. At the end of this cooling, the slabs are ready to be trimmed and cut into rigid, solid blocks of various sizes.

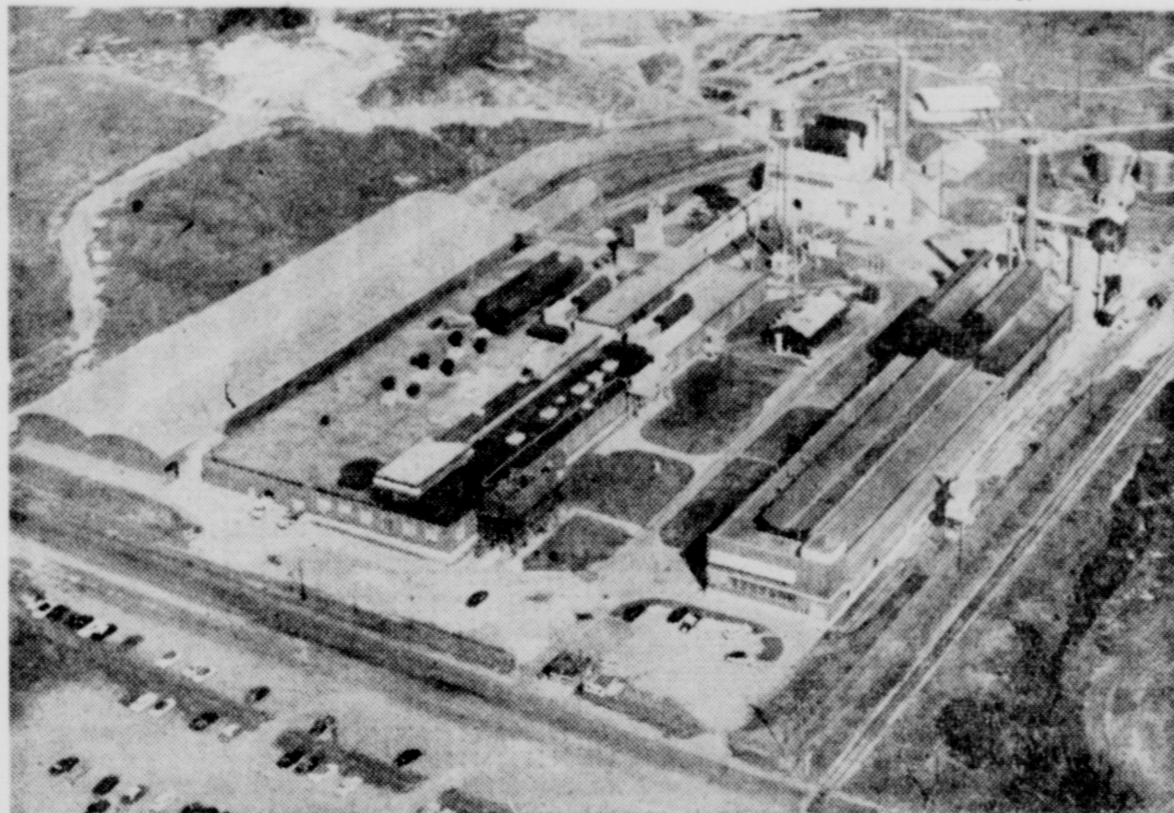

After cutting and packing, the Foamglas is ready for shipment throughout the territory assigned to the Sedalia plant.

Foamglas is an insulating material, used for both low and high temperature insulation. It is used in roofs, walls, floors, and ceilings of buildings of all types and on piping, tanks and process equipment.

The Sedalia plants first started production of Foamglas in 1951. At that time, four furnaces or "ovens" were in operation. Before long, it became necessary to enlarge the production capacity and a large expansion program was started in 1955 and completed in 1956.

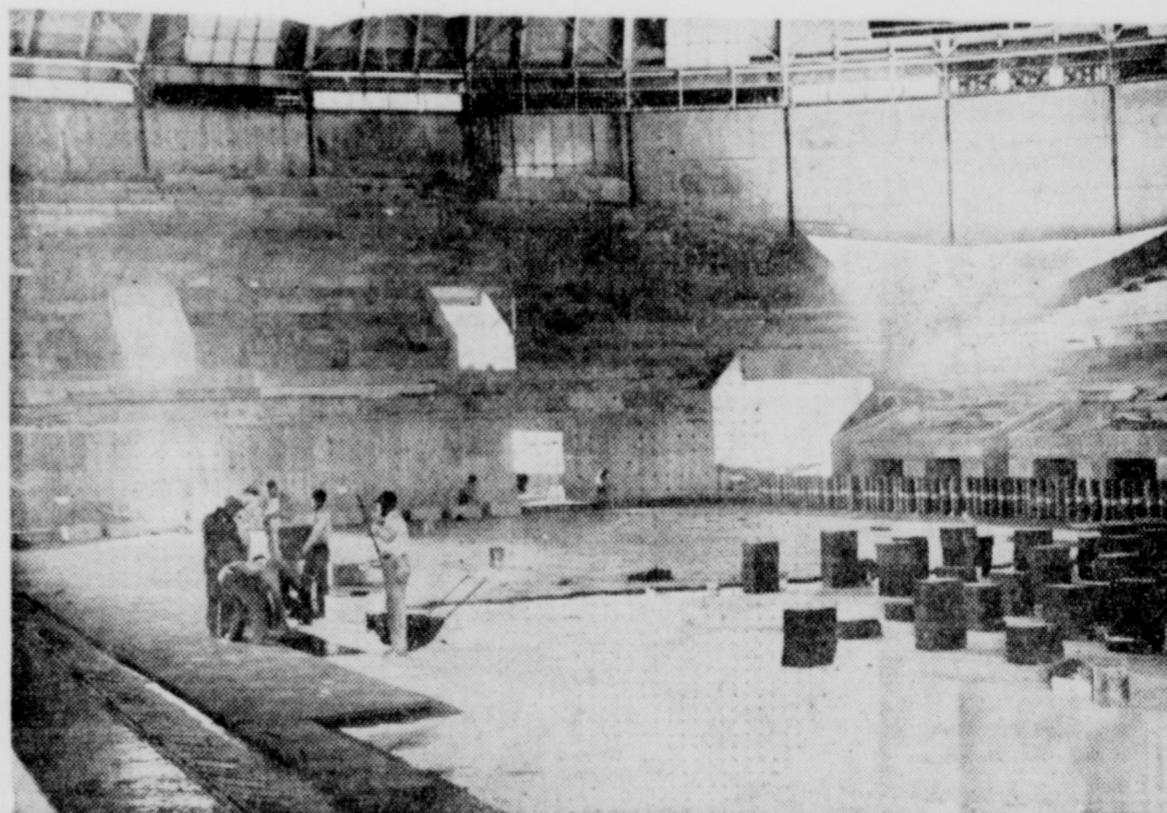

This expansion program is very important to Sedalia. First of all, it means more than 100 new jobs were available to Sedalians. Secondly, it serves as an encouragement to those who are endeavoring to secure new industries for Sedalia. It is concrete evidence of the faith Pittsburgh Corning has in the people and the future of Sedalia.

The people of Pittsburgh Corning are justly proud of the position the company enjoys in this community.

BIG INDUSTRY—This bird's-eye view of the Pittsburgh Corning Co. plant on 16th Street just west of the State Fairgrounds shows the large size of this industry more impressively than a ground view. At the far left is the new addition to the plant, and at the center foreground of the picture, beside the main building, is a new air blower which was recently added to the existing system. An expansion program was begun in 1951 and completed in 1956.

FOAMGLAS USED IN COLISEUM—Foamglas, which is seen being applied under the skating rink of this new coliseum in Charlotte, N.C. will enable quicker freezing of the rink surface and allow the use of less expensive refrigerating equipment. The dome of the coliseum is the world's largest with its highest point at 113 feet. The coliseum will seat 10,000 and is designed to accommodate events ranking from ice hockey to basketball, shows and even a three-ring circus.

Sell Last Rural School Buildings In District VIII

The Brushville school buildings, 2½ miles northwest of Knob Noster, the last of the rural school buildings in Reorganized School District VIII, have been sold in a public auction to George Gallaher, of Knob Noster. Some surplus equipment was also sold.

The Brushville schoolhouse is located on a plot on the late George T. Gallaher farm, which Mr. Gallaher had given for school purposes. The abstract for the farm on which this school is located was signed in 1836 by Martin Van Buren, president of the United States. The land always has remained in the George Gallaher name since that time.

A contract was let on July 1, 1893, to John Bray to build the Brushville schoolhouse, 24 feet by 36 feet, for $595, and the directors were George T. Gallaher, C. C. Hall and J. F. Livengood. George W. Knaus was the district clerk.

This was the second school building located on the same site. George T. Gallaher taught in the old school building, which later was moved and used as part of his barn.

George Gallaher is a grandson of George T. Gallaher, and he lives on the old homestead.

General Provisions Given

Department of Agriculture
Outlines Wheat Legislation

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has recently outlined general provisions of recent legislation permitting farmers whose wheat acreage allotment is less than 30 acres to grow up to 30 acres of wheat for use exclusively on the farm where produced. The new provision will apply only to 1938 and future crops and does not apply to the 1937 and prior wheat crops.

Another provision contained in this law provides that no acreage seeded to wheat for harvest as grain in 1938 or thereafter in excess of the wheat acreage allotment on any farm, regardless of the size of the wheat allotment, shall be considered in establishing future State, county, or farm acreage allotments.

The revision in farm law relating to acreage allotments and marketing quotas will enable a livestock and poultry producer who has a small allotment or no allotment to increase his wheat production in 1938 and thereafter and not be liable for marketing quota penalties.

A number of limitations are placed on the production and use of wheat under the new provision. Producers, to be eligible to grow up to the 30 acres without penalty, for the 1938 crop, must sign an application prior to planting time on the farm, or October 15, 1937, whichever is later, and the application must be approved by the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. These applications will be available in ASC county offices soon.

The application, which will set forth the conditions of the program, must show the intended disposition of the wheat. An application may be cancelled at any time at the producer's request but marketing quota provisions will then apply.

If the producers signs up for the feed wheat exemption provision, under the law the entire crop of wheat must be used on the farm where produced for seed, human food, or livestock and poultry feed. Not more than 30 acres of wheat may be grown on the farm, and none of the wheat may be sold, bartered, or exchanged, nor will it be eligible for price support.

The livestock or poultry fed must be owned by the producer, or subsequent owner or operator of the farm. It may not be removed to another farm for any purpose.

If the wheat is to be ground into feed or flour at a mill, all of the processed product and by-products must be returned to the farm. The producer may not pay for the service of grinding by giving the by-products or any of the grain to the mill.

The 30-acre limit does not apply to farms operated by and as a part of State or county institutions or religious or charitable institutions, provided an application has been signed. However, the use restrictions apply fully to these organizations.

No marketing card will be issued for farms covered by the feed wheat exemption provision since none of the wheat from such farms may be sold. If the conditions on which the exemption is granted are violated the exemption becomes null and void and the producer will be subject to penalties under wheat marketing quota regulations.

Producers who participate in this program must maintain adequate records of the disposition of the crop of wheat produced on the farm and of any other wheat acquired and used on the farm. A disposition report of the 1938 crop must be filed with the county ASC office not later than Sept. 1, 1939.

Producers who participate in this program for the 1938 crop of wheat will not be eligible to vote in a referendum on 1939 wheat marketing quotas, if quotas are proclaimed.

The provision in effect under past programs permitting producers to market wheat without penalty where harvestings are 15 acres or less regardless of the size of the wheat allotment will still be available to producers on farms which are not participating in the feed wheat exemption provisions. However, any producers who elect to participate in the feed wheat exemption provision of the program will not be eligible to market any of his wheat and the 15-acre provision will not apply to the farm.

The exemption relating to the feed wheat provision is not automatic and only those producers who execute a proper application by the final sign-up date and such application is approved will be eligible to use this exemption.

A producer who participates in the 1938 wheat acreage reserve of the Soil Bank will not be eligible to use the provisions of the 30-acre feed wheat amendment. A producer who wishes to participate in the feed wheat provision will have to cancel his wheat acreage reserve agreement prior to the closing date for cancellation of wheat acreage reserve agreements.

A basic provision of the acreage reserve program requires that a

Mrs. Alvin A. Pritzel

Miss Esther Kaiser Exchanges Marriage Vows With A. Pritzel

Miss Esther Kaiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Kaiser, Cole Camp, exchanged marriage vows with Alvin A. Pritzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pritzel, Lincoln, in a candlelight ceremony performed by the Rev. Carl H. Wolf, at St. John's Lutheran Church, northwest of Cole Camp, at half past six o'clock Sunday evening, September 8. The altar was decorated with bouquets of garden flowers and twelve candelabra adorned with white satin bows.

As the guests were being seated Mrs. Harold Skidmore, Sedalia, played a program of wedding music. Chester Eding, also of Sedalia, sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer". The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white lace over satin. The fitted bodice was trimmed with decorative lace and rhinestones outlining the lace yoke and the long sleeves tapered to points over the hands. The very full skirt was gathered to the scalloped waist. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a small hat of net and lace medallions embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white asters and pink roses. The bride's dress was made by her mother.

Miss Laverne Balke, Cole Camp, cousin of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and Mrs. J. D. Williams, sister of the bridegroom, Ionia, was bridesmaid.

They wore identical dresses of light blue cupiona cotton. Blue satin bows adorned the short sleeves and bouffant skirts. Their small hats of blue satin ribbon were in the shape of a bow. Their corsages were of gardenias and pink rosebuds.

The candlelighters, Miss Darlene Pritzel, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Velda Mae Eckhoff, both of Lincoln, wore dresses of pink cupiona cotton designed like those worn by the attendants. Their corsages were also of gardenias and rosebuds.

Harold Harms, Cole Camp, served as best man and Deibert Kaiser, Sedalia, cousin of the bride, was groomsmen. Joseph Kabler and Cletus Pritzel, Sedalia, ushered.

Immediately preceding the bride to the altar was the little flower girl, Susan Jean Pritzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Pritzel, Cole Camp. She wore a pink dress similar to the candlelighters' and carried a basket of rose petals.

David Salmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Salmons, Sedalia, wearing navy trousers and a white jacket, carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kaiser chose an aqua dress, black accessories and corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Pritzel, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a light gray dress accented with white accessories and white carnation corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The five tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom, Miss Lucille Eckhoff, Lincoln, was in charge of the guest book. Misses Dorene and Norma Jean Kaiser had charge of the gifts.

The bride was employed in the business office of the Sedalia Democrat and Capital for the past three years.

The bridegroom is employed at W-K Garage in Cole Camp.

They are residing on their farm south of Cole Camp.

KNIT FASHIONS
Knit dresses are so practical. They can be dressed up or dressed down as the occasion demands. They are so comfortable to wear too.
The custom-look is new this fall season. In the soft and bulky yet light-weight knit, the sheath coat is worn with the tailored dress; dresses with cardigans; and skirts and tops. For the first time, synthetic fur fabric inserts are seen on knit suits. The sheath silhouette is endorsed for daytime knits that are truly handsome—cashmere, satin-textured synthetics, and dry-hand wools. The Empire and long torso silhouettes are favored.
For late day a feeling of elegance is created by the use of metallic yarns, satin-yarn knits, and gossamer knitted lace mounted over net. Filmy lacy knits give a feeling of airiness when used to create the cocktail dress. There is a freshness in the ribbon knits this season. Silk or tulle ribbon knits are used effectively along or in combination with fabric to ample a ribbon bodice and a bouffant chignon skirt.
New trends are evidenced in sweaters too. The height of luxury is achieved by combining fine sweaters with wool and fur. Inserts of ribbing, ribbon run through yarns, and heavier dresses. How looped split fronts, welting on collars and pockets are well designed. Jewel-trim is still important.
Heavy knit three-quarter length sweaters of Orlon with a high cape collar are different and designed for casual living.
THE NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF DRY CLEANING, Silver Spring, Maryland, advised that wool knit garments are handled differently than ribbon knits or knits made from the newer synthetic fibers. Consult your cleaner on the proper care and cleaning of your knit fashions.

Your Wardrobe
by Frances Sagaloff at Sage's

UNDERPINNINGS
Your underpinnings are just as important in your wardrobe as your suits and dresses, therefore you should use as much care and attention in selecting them. There are so many new types of bras on the market, there is no reason for not having the proper ones for particular needs. Girdles, too, are a must for any well groomed woman, regardless of how small she may be. Petticoats are very important and are excellent to wear under your suit skirts and heavier dresses. However, you must be careful in the selection of sheer or clinging blouses if you prefer to wear half slips. There is a gala array of colors in slips and half-slips now and it is great fun to have them with the rest of your outfits. It is very important that you have your suits and dresses fitted over the girdle and bra you intend wearing. Keep your lingerie meticulously clean and tuck some of your best satchet in your lingerie chest.

CMSC Classes Have Highest Enrollment

Classes underway at Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg have their highest enrollment for any semester in the College's 37 years of service to the 21 counties in this district. Enrollment now totals 2,325. This is 138 more than last year's figure. Late enrollees will raise the total even higher.

The freshman class at the College is now larger than the entire student body of the school just 10 years ago. Jackson County again leads the enrollment.

Dr. Warren C. Lovinger, president of the College, this week commented, "The College's building program now underway will eventually afford some relief from crowding due to the record breaking number of students on campus. Students are cooperating splendidly in an all-campus effort to make use of existing facilities while additional dormitories are being finished this fall and new classroom buildings started. Bids for construction of two new dormitories will be opened September 26th and bids for construction of a classroom building will be opened about mid-October."

Enrollment at CMSC this fall was expedited by the use of an electronically operated card system which permits students to quickly complete registration. A student can be enrolled in only one hour—from the time he picks up his key cards until he has his text books. This new system can also be used

Raymond Burr As TV Perry Mason

By WILLIAM GLOVER
NEW YORK (AP)—Raymond Burr emerges on the TV screen tomorrow night as fiction's famous lawyer-sleuth, Perry Mason.

The time and the place toss him into one of the season's top rating tussles, for the drama's second half hour overlaps the established domain of that other Perry, the crooning Como.

Burr's blue eyes glint at the prospect — he thrives on challenge, but he likes the soft approach.

"I'm not an extrovert," he says. "I'm not a particularly dominant character. But in certain areas I have great confidence in what I can do. It's not ego — it's confidence."

Burr found determination highly helpful in winning his current assignment.

"I made two tests for the series," he explains, "one for the part of the district attorney and one for Mason — which was the role I really wanted."

"When I finished, they decided it would be difficult to find someone else to dominate as Mason if I was the d.a. Let's say I was 'definite.'"

Closely supervising the entire enterprise is Erie Stanley turned to writing after a notable career as a barrister.

The only real problem Burr finds is the race to keep production of the hour-long films ahead of their consumption over the air.

"It's like making a full-length feature film every six working days," he says.

'Ops' Sq. Families Invited to Visit

Movies for adults and children, a tour of squadron sections and cake and coffee are a composite of the activities scheduled for the 340th Operations squadron open house next Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Whiteman AFB.

Welcoming the visitors will be Capt Donald B. Duesler, Operations squadron commander.

Aim of the open house is to better acquaint the families of squadron personnel with the mission of SAC and the way Operations squadron supports the 340th Bomb wing in its mission. One of the movies, titled "The Strategic Air Command," will take care of the SAC portion of the briefing.

Actual work of the unit will be covered in a tour which will include stops at the MARS station, Air Base Training flight, rifle range, photo lab, swimming pool and survival training exhibit.

Several Visitors Attend Club Meeting

The Blackwater Township Extension Club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of M. Mattie Ezell Sept. 6. Mrs. Walter Schanz called the session to order. Ten members answered roll call. Visitors were Mrs. Bernice McVey, Mrs. Homer Walker, and Miss Esther Stratton.

Mrs. Schanz reported on the meeting held in Marshall Thursday evening and told of the plans for the young homemakers schools to be held in the county each Monday at Blackwater School for the next four weeks. The club planned to serve refreshments at each session.

Officers elected for the coming year were: Mrs. Walter Schanz, president; Mrs. W. W. Marshall, vice-president; Mrs. L. C. Griffith, secretary-treasurer.

Miss McVeigh gave a talk on ironing. Mrs. Marshall reported on a public affairs meeting she had attended.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. B. Marshall.

The word "meander," a verb that describes what all rivers do, came from the winding Maender River of western Asia Minor.

'Smokey' Will Ride Highways As Reminder

"Smokey" the Bear, symbol of fire prevention will ride the nation's highways the next six weeks or more spreading the message of fire prevention to thousands of motorists.

Participating locally in the part North American Van Lines, Inc., will have in this nation-wide event, will be their agent, Dan D. Doty, owner of Mid-State Storage Co. His trucks will carry "Smokey," too.

Preserving America's natural resources is a responsibility of every motorist, and that is one important reason "Smokey" is teaming up with North American to emphasize the campaign which is a prelude to October's fire prevention week, according to Doty. Endorsing the project is Sedalia's Fire Chief John G. Lueck, who calls attention to the fact that thoroughfares are the direct source of a high percentage of man-made fires, kindled by burning material thrown from automobiles. Alertness to prevention by "Smokey's" reminder may save countless lives and a wealth of property.

If you were sick, you would call a doctor, not a lawyer. If you needed a plumber, you wouldn't call a carpenter.

If you are going to have a sale you need an auctioneer, not just some person who can talk fast. An auctioneer is a professional man who is schooled and trained and has experience in his field. He is a man capable of handling your personal belongings, which you worked hard to obtain.

If you have something to sell consider these things: Be sure the auctioneer of your choice is educated and trained and capable of handling your sale.
